1. What does post-vaccine Quarantine look like?

The CDC says you do not have to quarantine after exposure to someone with COVID-19 IF:

- It has been at least two weeks since your final COVID-19 vaccine dose.

  AND

- The exposure happened at least two weeks after your final COVID-19 vaccine dose.

  AND

- You are showing NO symptoms.

These recommendations are the same for someone who is living in the same household as a person who has tested positive.

All vaccinated close contacts should wear a mask while indoors, practice social distancing, and get tested.

2. How should I monitor for COVID-19 symptoms?

COVID-19 vaccines are effective at keeping you from getting COVID-19. However, there have been instances of breakthrough cases. A breakthrough case is when a fully vaccinated individual contracts COVID-19.

If you have new or worsening fever, cough, shortness of breath, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, loss of taste or smell — get tested — even if you have already done so.

3. What if I am experiencing COVID-19 symptoms?

- Stay at home and away from other people.

- Get tested.
  - Contact your healthcare provider immediately. Tell them you were exposed to COVID-19 and have symptoms. They can help you get tested.
  - If you don’t have a healthcare provider, you can contact a local Urgent Care, or 211.
  - Or you can call Lane County Public Health at 541-682-1380 to arrange to get tested at the McKenzie Willamette drive thru testing location.

- Separate yourself from other people and animals in your home.

- Wear a face covering.

- Cover your coughs and sneezes.

- Wash your hands often.

- Avoid sharing personal household items.

- Clean all high-touch surfaces every day.

- If you are very ill, call 911, and tell them that you were exposed to COVID-19 and have developed symptoms. Your local health department and ambulance service can help arrange safe transportation for you to get treated and keep you and those around you safe.

4. Should I get tested?

If you are fully vaccinated and do not have symptoms, you should get tested 5 - 7 days after your exposure to COVID-19. If you develop any symptoms which are out of the ordinary for you, you should get tested right away.
What if I test positive?

- Isolate no less than 10 days after the onset of symptoms or the test date if asymptomatic. People who test positive should be free of fever, without the use of medication, for at least 24 hours before leaving isolation. Other symptoms must be improving as well.

- If you test positive, you should contact everyone you were in close proximity with starting two days before you began experiencing symptoms or tested positive. Close proximity means within 6 feet for at least 15 total minutes or physical contact.
